Owaissi Anglican Camp Job Descriptions

- Giving first aid when necessary and prepared to accompany campers on hikes and outings. Ensuring appropriate 1st aid kit/supplies go on all outings.
- Keeping a written record of all treatments, medications, illnesses, and injuries.
- Ensuring Workman Compensation forms in first aid station drawer.
- Participating in camper activities when possible.
- Maintaining confidentiality of staff and camper's medical issues with medications distributed in the treatment room only.
- Following the health and safety policies in the First Aid Station manual.
- Ensuring campers, volunteers or staff members have a ride to see a physician, to the hospital or home if sick. This typically involves contacting the parent/guardian or emergency contact person designated on the medical form to pick them up or an ambulance if deemed necessary by the medic or nurse. Consult with the Program Coordinator.
- Any situation that requires assistance outside of the skills onsite requires that an incident report be written and filed.
- Ensuring the first aid station is kept neat, tidy and clean.

NOTES: The treatment room has a stock list of supplies. Please do not request additional remedies or medicines except in specific circumstances. A good portion of your job will be dealing with the stresses related to being away from home. Behind each request for a band-aid is often a plea for individual attention. Campers and staff may require a short break and find it in the relative peace and quiet of the "first aid station".
